

In cooperation with

CSR in a development context: Using crop diversity to reduce dependency on cotton and combat poverty

Expert meeting of NGOs, supporting consultants and business representatives

25. September 2008 in Hamburg, Germany

Agenda

10:00-10:15	Welcome Coffee
10:15-10:30	Brief introduction – aim of the day Alexandra Perschau, PAN Germany
	Perspectives from the South – Identifying suitable markets
10:30-11:00	Local market approaches – the Example of Senegal Jörg John, ENDA Pronat, Senegal
11:00-11:30	Export market approaches – Experience from SEKEM with non-cotton crops Christina Boecker, SEKEM, Egypt/Germany
11:30-12:00	Logistics implications of exporting from small businesses in developing countries Doraliz Aranda, Organic Exchange, Paraguay
	European Market Experiences
12:00-12:30	Bulk commodities to European Markets Needs for importers – Experience from Tradin Organics Arjon Kalter, Tradin Organics, the Netherlands
12:30-13:00	Track and trace and beyond – Story telling as communication tool Ashley Currin, Historic Futures, UK
13:00-14:00	Lunch Break
14:00-15:30	Further discussion
15:30-16:00	Coffee break
16:00-17:00	PAN, partners and Organic Exchange meeting

The Fibre, Food & Beauty: Make it move project gratefully acknowledges financial support from: